Turn Missiles into Cranes

Dear Members of the Anti-Kriegs-Museum,

I am sending you this origami crane, which I decorated and folded myself, as a contrast to those who have recently threatened other countries with missiles and to those who have replied with personal insults or bellicose threats.

The origami crane is a message of peace, fraternity and love of our planet. Please keep it somewhere visible in order to share this message with others. If you can, please encourage others to make one. Make one yourself and send it to someone else to keep the message going; the message being - ART which desires to bring people together and make them happy.

Yours faithfully
